

Activity sheet

Active maths: Team bar charts

Introduction:

Bar charts are very useful for presenting results. Can you draw some bar charts to show your team's results from your activity stations?

Instructions:

- Use the tables to record the points for your team at each station.
- When you have finished, use the grids to create bar charts of your results.

Recording results

Names
Pair 1
Pair 2

Station 1: _____
	Turn 1 scores:	Turn 2 scores:
Pair 1
Pair 2

What is Pair 1's total score for this station?

What is Pair 2's total score for this station?

What is your team's total score for this station?

Station 2: _____
	Turn 1 scores:	Turn 2 scores:
Pair 1
Pair 2

What is Pair 1's total score for this station?

What is Pair 2's total score for this station?

What is your team's total score for this station?

Station 3: _____
	Turn 1 scores:	Turn 2 scores:
Pair 1
Pair 2

What is Pair 1's total score for this station?

What is Pair 2's total score for this station?

What is your team's total score for this station?

Station 4: _____
	Turn 1 scores:	Turn 2 scores:
Pair 1
Pair 2

What is Pair 1's total score for this station?

What is Pair 2's total score for this station?

What is your team's total score for this station?

Activity sheet

Active maths: Team bar charts

Recording results

Create a bar chart of your scores.

Checklist:

- I have drawn my bars with a ruler.
- I have labelled my axes.
- I have labelled the bars.
- I have written the scale on the vertical axis.
- I have given my chart a title.

Title: _____

